MEMPHIS APPEAL.

LOW COMEDY.

The Harlequinade of Impeachment is over. Mean in conception and meaner in execution, the burlesque of the trial of Hastings came to an inglorious end in the middle of the last act; Managers Butler, Boutwell, Bingham and the rest ingloriously turned tail and fled, the curtain fell, and the tallow candles of the shoddy and pitchbeck imitation of the real article of impeachment were summarily snuffed out. The intelligent negroes and the ring of speculators and swindlers, meaner than the meanest of the issue from obscene Afric's dusky loins, who had built hopes so high on the accession of bully Ben Wade to the Presidency, gnash their teeth with rage. The agonies and tortures of the seedy carpet baggers who flocked open-mouthed to Washington to secure the fat things in the gift of a new administration, have taken their flight from the City of Distances, on which they lit down in swarms like locusts or lank and hungry buzzards.

Impeachment, born in a brothel of political prostitution, has given up the ghost as a dog dies in a kennel, and not even Logan proposes to erect a monument to its memory. A base-born brat, it is flung shroudless into the sewer that serves as a receptacle for other ignominious remains, as a dead cur is flung into that feculent canal in rear of the Capitol at Washington, which resembles a river in very much the same degree as Congress, amid its present defilements resembles Parliament or any other decent assemblage of legislators.

One good purpose, if not many more, this wretched abortion has served. It has developed the principles of the Jacobin party, which, without it, a cautious prudence would still have concealed. It has shown them and their doctrines in their naked shamelessness and deformity. We now know that Jacobinism means the Omnipotence of the House of Representatives, represented by a Committee of Public Safety; violation of private correspondence and dispatches by Congressional Committees; subjugation of the Executive and ultimately of the Senate to the representatives of the populace, of the scum of the cities, of the herds of newly imported emigrants, and of the progeny of black barbarians. It means the subservience of the Judiciary to Congress, the maintainance and enforcement of unconstitutional laws, the denial of the writ of Habeas Corpus, imprisonments and murders by military commissions, the denial, delay and sale of justice, a General of the Armies to be the sword of the Committee of Public Safety,—in short, Ben-Butlerism regnant and rampant in the nation, corruption in all the veins and arteries of the body politic, a Government-machine run for the benefit of speculators and jobbers, the reign of parasites and peculators, the carnival of frauds and lies, the capital of the nation a political brothel and gambling-house combined.

This is far from being all that the impeachment and trial have developed. The country has seen, and without being startled, amazed, or even surprised, the most dishonorable means resorted to, all over the land, by the managers and organs of Jacobinism, to force Senators sitting as judges, to convict contrary to their consciences and oaths. It has seen the acting Vice-President, when his single vote might convict the President, shamelessly give that vote, to make himself President and secure the enormous and corrupting patronage of the office. It has seen the managers, prosecuting the President, imitate the role of Quirk, Gammon and Snap and Sergeant Buzfuz, and resort to all the disreputable tricks, in examination, cross-examination, unconscientious objections to testimony, and unfair argument, and downright falsification of the evidence, common among low practitioners in the lowest courts of the country and despised by all honorable men.

The Chicago Tribune is a thoroughly Radical journal, and it publishes without disapproval this, which is written it by a correspondent. Read it, and see what sort of a fair trial Jacobinism gave the President:

> The articles were so shabby that the managers had to protect them from the weight of evidence on the other side, and Mr. Butler's famous conduct of the cross-examination amounted to no more than refusing to hear testimony concerning his own charges. The speeches were directed not so much to strengthening the charges as to intimidating the Senators, and all the really hard work of the House of Representatives was evaded by Mr. Ben Wade's friends. They, indeed, were lively enough, carrying the news from breakfast-time to midnight, talking in bar-rooms and newspaper offices, asking slanders, contriving pressure on individual Senators, stuffing the telegraphic files, cursing the Chief Justice, and roll-calling on the prospect of cheap oysters and fine fishes. This kind of industry disgusted Senators, who also felt that their body had been degraded to impudence to maintain. Mr. Stevens swung his whip with easy nonchalance over their shoulders; Mr. Butler serenely gave Heaven to understand that President Johnson was his client, and also treated the Chief Justice with frequent sublime impudence. It was the talents in the Senate, pulling the beards of the Conscript Fathers. Read by this light the speech of Mr. Stevens again—curt with dire threatenings for this world and the world to come! Observe the delicate incense of Mr. Butler's grandeur, adjudged in the same breath with the destiny of a Chief Magistrate! And measure the penalty of Mr. Boutwell's tirade in the sky with the dimensions of the victim's offense! It is to me no wonder that old Senators like Grimes, Fessenden and Trumbull felt that the House of Representatives was investigating a nuisance instead of holding a grand inquest.

When the managers found that the flimsy frailty of their miserable articles was patent to all the world, they devoted themselves to weakening the responsibility of a Senatorial oath, urging that the Senate was not a Court, and pressing all manner of considerations, not legitimate nor decent to be urged under the charges, nor sustained in the least by the witnesses. The judicial annals of Great Britain, when Jeffries and Scroggs administered the law of treason, and Oates murdered men by rank perjury, and Wright disgraced the Chief Justiceship, have no case more dishonouring, more shameful and shameless and disgraceful, than the mock trial of Andrew Johnson.

The same writer says:

> The simple results of this trial are these: the managers failed to make a case and support it by evidence; the Senate observed its oath; the Republican party has lost nothing but the doubtful beneficence of Mr. Wade's domination, and the example of the Senate is convincing to the country that the progressive party is not yet committed to the Salterres of the Faubourgs, who would rise to destruction at railroad speed." Had the articles of impeachment been prepared with care, and invoved the broad charge that the President had delayed the reconstruction of the rebel States on the base of peace, loyalty and freedom, evidence might have been adduced to alter the verdict; but on these manikin charges a decent Senate could not commit the nation to a pernicious example, and place at the head of the executive department a man who will probably never receive the sanfrags of the people! These Senators, against whom the desperate menaces of the Wade people are turned, are reflecting men, whose citizenship will survive them in sons and daughters. They compared the drunken ravings of Andrew Johnson with the "jump forward" vagaries of his counterpart; they have served the Union and freedom too wisely in the past to be scared from the helm when our destinies are almost completed. They know what is due to the present, and what is reserved for the future. And the truth is, that—except for some nervousness among the Senators, caused by the outside roaring, the articles of impeachment would fall of getting more than eight votes in the whole Senate.

But 'the Senate' did not observe its oath. Seven Republican Senators did so, and the vote for conviction was one less than two-thirds. Thirty-five Senators voted for conviction, some honestly, many against their consciences, out of fear of the consequences to their precious selves, of a different vote; or, in the words of the correspondent of the Tribune, "out of nervousness, caused by outside roaring."

The whole scene, from first to last, was more disgraceful than those that were formerly enacted, to the scandal of France, in the bed-chambers and ante-chambers of Mesdames de Pompadour and Dubarry. A New York journal thus gives one glimpse of these "Scenes of Glory:"

> George Wilkes, sporting editor of a sporting paper, standing on the floor of the United States Senate, during a session with closed doors, with an unlimited number of greenbacks, playing a tall game of bluff—staking $100 to $20 on the conviction of Andy Johnson.

Theodore Tilton, pious editor of a pious organ, of all the Christian graces and heavenly-mindedness of the North, standing along side of him and holding the stakes.

Radical Congressmen, Pinkertons, and Col. Bloods, watching the doors for the first chance to fall upon the necks of Senatorial friends, and congratulate them upon the inauguration of the reign of Terror and Universal Dread.

Can any body of the liveliest fancy conceive a nobler scene? Can the optimist imagine an improvement on this "the best Government the world ever saw?"

As soon as the eleventh article, the rickety bantling of Thad. Stevens, was defeated, the managers of impeachment, mad with rage and disappointment, returned to the House, and procured the adoption of this shameful and indecent resolution, to sink the Congress of the United States, if such a thing were possible, still lower in the estimation of the world:

> "WHEREAS, Information has come to the managers which seems to them to furnish probable cause to believe that improper or corrupt means have been used to influence the determination of the Senate upon the articles of impeachment exhibited to the Senate by the House of Representatives against the President of the United States; therefore

> "Be it resolved, That for the further and more efficient prosecution of the impeachment of the President, the managers be authorized and instructed to summon and examine witnesses under oath, to send for persons and papers, to employ a stenographer, and to appoint subcommittees to take testimony, the expenses thereof to be paid from the contingent fund of the House."

"Information which seems to furnish probable cause to believe that improper or corrupt means have been used to influence the determination of the Senate." There has been nothing else from the beginning. No improper or corrupt means has been left untried, to influence Senators to vote for conviction. Nothing like the bullying and browbeating resorted to to effect that purpose, had ever been seen in the world. It was open, notorious, brazen, in its prodigate and shameless indecency.

But it was not the purpose of the guano-scavengers to examine into that side of the case. They pretended to expect to be able to prove that Senators Ross and others had been bribed with money to vote for acquittal. They had employed spies to dog these Senators and the Chief Justice, tracking them wherever they went, waiting when they entered a house until they left it, and noting how long they remained, violating the secrecy of telegraphic dispatches and using stolen letters, in the hope of scenting out some evidence of corruption.

The National Intelligencer most truly said:

> This star chamber outrage has but one real intention, and that is to assail and defame the character of more than one United States Senator, and of every Senator who has refused to subscribe to the arrogant and servile resolution under which the inquiry was ostensibly authorized by the house they have summoned with more sacrilegious and vile purpose of slandering men, the instinct of whose souls they are not worthy to see. The kitchens, haunts, and purlieus of privacy of life have been explored by spies and infamous informers, in order to fish up some dripping calumny or filth wherewith to gratify a morbid passion or vengeance. Senators and their friends have been tracked for months past by mercenary wretches, whose only trade it was to pry at their movements, and to subsidize their servants into betrayal of the insulo-pecing privacy of their wives and conversation. Nothing so infamous or so shocking to all sense of decency, and so revolting to American character, has ever before happened in our country. The whole filthy disgusting affair is stem evidence of a terrible demoralization, and of the low, degraded, and mean character of the Radical majority in Congress. Its every respectable is sickening to contemplate, and reveals a degree of depravity which makes us blush for the reputation of a body which is heretofore has commanded public respect, even in the worst times of political excitement.

The committee, the Intelligencer said, used its power to coerce the production of the deposit accounts of various individuals at one of the banks in Washington. That journal said, with a just indignation and justifiable severity:

> Bank books are said to have been inspected, not in a court, not in an open committee room, not even before the packed Star Chamber as a whole, but privately and alone, at dead of night, by the Butler—a man whose very name is an adjective stronger than we dare employ. How far this prying investigation was extended none can tell, nor to how many of the opponents of radicalism the indignity of an inspection of their private business was offered. Such a practice as this tramples not only on every private right, but it is the all but consummate annoying and injurious to the business portion of the community. Once tolerated and endured here, the outrage will be extended to other cities, and made the vehicle of corrupt or malicious proceeding by Radicals towards their Conservative rivals in business, and even towards each other.

How far is this to extend? By whom are the spies and inch-al servants that dog Senators, private gentlemen, and even women paid? Does it come from the Federal Treasury, or from the Grant electioneering fund, or from the booty of New Orleans? The people want light. They want to know by what authority all the outpatches, public and private, sent from this city on Friday last, have been seized and laid before this committee. If the dispatches of Friday are not sacred, then those of the last month, or twelve months—nay, all those sent or to be sent in any city of the Union, are the pleasure and property of the honorable manager, with the prying Butler at their head. And if all dispatches are to be subject to Butler's examination, censorship and approval, then why not also the mails? Are letters to be deemed sacred?

A letter written by one witness examined before the Board of Managers, Mr. Newton, and left by him lying on the table in his room, was produced to him by the Managers, and he was asked by Butler if he recognized it. "I do," he said, "I wrote it and left it lying open on the table in my room. It was stolen thence."

"Do you know who stole it?" Butler asked; and the witness answered, "No, sir: I find you in possession of it."

The telegraph operators in Washington and Baltimore were ordered by the managers to bring before them all the dispatches sent by them on a given day. One company or more obeyed. Might they not with equal right and decency have demanded the mail-bags from the Postmaster? Woolley is imprisoned because he declined to state what he had done with a given sum of money, after he had sworn that it was not applied in any manner that concerned the impeachment. Nothing is sacred against the espionage of this new Satanus, Butler; no letter, however private, no dispatch about business, no conversation however confidential. The filthy, prying, obscene animal must gloat over all. No wonder the Intelligencer styles the Radical party "A sot, reeling amidst the pillars of the Constitution." It shares the immortality of infamy of Butler. The supply is ample for all.

And, after all this, not a particle of proof has been fished up or moused out by the Committee against either of the seven Republican Senators who voted for acquittal. These are scatheless, while Pomeroy, and Julian of the House, are materially damaged.

No one who has been in Washington, and witnessed the scenes that are enacted there, in the lobbies of the Senate and the House, and who knows something of the modes in which Senators and members of the House are operated on, and by what manner of men they are manipulated and by what appliances seduced and controlled, will deem anything too severe that can be said in regard to the corruption that prevails there, and the character of the Radical leaders. One cannot write the truth about either, without seeming to exaggerate. Gamblers, adventurers, sharpers and speculators, the political Chevaliers d'industrie are the busiest and most influential men in Washington. They hold Senatorial votes in the hollow of their hand, and use them for their sinister purposes, or sell them for money. Female adventurers, too, are not without voice and influence. Feed by "rings" and combinations, they lend their efficient aid to urge forward the various jobs and schemes, which are to make fortunes for their inventors. Thus it is that the Government of so many millions of people is run for the benefit of comparatively an insignificant handful of men, a large proportion of whom are mere well-dressed and plausible adventurers, and not a few, low-bred and vulgar sharpers.

All Radical Senators and Representatives are not like Butler, Bingham, Logan and others who have discarded principle as an article unnecessary and embarrassing to politicians. God forbid we should include all in that class! There are men among the Radicals in Congress who are not regardless of the obligations of honour, decency and fair dealing. Such, for example, are Sprague, Anthony, Frelinghuysen. These and others do not forget that they were gentlemen before they were Radicals, and that they have a right to be so yet. There is a wide difference between these and Morton and Yates and such men as Sumner and Drake and Stewart, of Nevada, and Chandler of Michigan.

The comedy is played out. Its miserable close was eminently worthy of itself. Defeated and failing to convict on the 11th, 21 and 3d articles, the Radical majority refused to decide on the others, and adjourned sine die, refusing to decide at all. The case ingloriously sneaked out of Court, without even being non-prossed,—an ignoble and ignominious death. It strutted its brief hour on the stage and passed away, and there are none who care enough for the corpse to give it decent burial. Finis coronat opus, the end crowns the work, it used to be said; but such an end is far from being a crown of glory.

POPULAR WORKS ON FREEMASONRY
PUBLISHED BY THE MASONIC PUBLISHING
—AND—
MANUFACTURING COMPANY,
432 Broome Street, New York.

LITURGY OF THE ANCIENT AND ACCEPTED Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. By Albert Pike, 33d, now Grand Commander. 8vo. Splendidly illustrated with Chromo-lithographic plates and numerous wood engravings, Part II, 4th to 14th degree, $5 00.

 It would perhaps seem unnecessary after giving the above title-page to say anything further in the way of recommendation. The name of the author should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of opening to the admiration of the Craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most complete, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity.

Published and for sale by the Masonic Publishing and Manufacturing Company, 432 Broome street, New York, and Booksellers generally in the United States.

Copies of the above for the Memphis Brethren are ready for delivery at the Editorial Rooms of the APPEAL, 14 Jefferson street, upstairs. jw jan29

For President of the United States,

OF TENNESSEE.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic Central Committee, a State Convention is called, to assemble at the city of Nashville, on the 9th day of June, 1868, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention, which will meet at the city of New York, on the 4th day of July next.

The people of the different counties throughout the State, are requested to hold County Conventions and appoint delegates to represent them in said State Convention.

All persons opposed to the policy of the Radical party are cordially invited to participate.

Democratic and Conservative newspapers of the State are requested to publish this call.

By order of the Central Committee,

THOS. R. JENNINGS, Chm'n.
L. D. WALKER, Sec'y.

GRANT'S CLAIMS TO POPULARITY.

Everybody admits that Grant is not a civilian, knows nothing of constitutions, laws, and the political questions, either in the past or for the present, and has none of those degrees of statesmanship which would point to him as the Chief Magistrate of this great nation. His sole claims are rested on his services in the field. Here are some of them strongly contrasted with those of Gen. Lee, who having a much less numerous army, was constrained to be careful of his men, while Grant, having plenary powers to call for all he wanted and obtain all he called for, could afford to be liberal, if not profuse and prodigal:

Grant, on assuming command May 4, 1864, had of effective men, beside the reserve, when he crossed the Rapidan, 125,000.

Lee, at the same date, had an effective force of 52,000.

Grant's reinforcements, up to the battle of Cold Harbor, June 3, were 97,000.

Lee's reinforcements, up to the same date were 18,000.

Grant's total force, including reinforcements, was 222,000.

Lee's total force, including reinforcements, was 70,000.

Returns to their respective governments showed that when both armies had reached the James, June 10, the number of Grant's army that had been put hors du combat was 117,000.

Up to the same date the number of Lee's men who had been put hors du combat was 19,000.

The two armies then met in front of Petersburg.

ARKANSAS.

—The DeWitt Elector of the 26th ult. says of the crops: The wheat crop, we are informed, of this section will not yield so large as was anticipated some weeks back, but we feel assured in saying that it will be larger than that of last year. We conversed with several of our farmers from various portions of the county on yesterday, who represented the corn and cotton crops as both being fine. The fruit crop looks splendid.

—The Augusta Sentinel of the 29th ult. says: A few days since three hale and hearty white men landed at our wharf in search of occupation—men willing to take hold of the plough handle or do any honorable labor. But a few moments elapsed, after they had made their business known, till they had offers plenty, and had secured good situations and good wages.

—On Monday night of last week, at Augusta, some unknown assassin shot George McElwee, colored, through the crack of the door, the ball entering his cheek and lodging beneath the bone on the opposite side, inflicting a severe wound. No clue to the mystery, but the intention to murder was evident.

—The Augusta Sentinel says: "It is encouraging to see the new improvements going on that are being made in our town. New buildings are being erected that will add much to the business community, and recent purchases of lots have been made with a view to erecting several more houses of business."

—Maj. Sparks intends leaving Pine Bluff, to resume his residence at Fort Smith.

—The Pine Bluff Vindicator of the 28th says the river is rising, and apprehends an overflow.

—The Pine Bluff Vindicator says: "We regret to announce that our esteemed friend, and old citizen, Robertson, Lytle, Esq., is lying seriously ill at his residence."

—The Helena Clarion is strongly in favor of Pendleton as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The Monticello Guardian hoists the flag of W. S. Hancock.

—The Circuit Court is in session at Helena. The Clarion of the 28th says: "There are 269 cases on the Issue docket, 121 on the Appearance docket, 188 on the Chancery docket, and 141 on the Criminal docket. The number of criminal cases will probably be considerably increased by the present Grand Jury."

—Died, at Plum Bayou, Jefferson county, on the 9th ult., Claudius S. Lawhon in the 43d year of his age, and for eighteen years a resident of that place.

—The Little Rock Gazette of the 28th ult., exposes a scheme of plunder. It says: The body of pretenders, who are permitted by the military authorities to assemble day after day in the State Capitol and ape a lawful legislature with all the bombastic pretensions of the Mock Duke in the "Honeymoon," is on the eve of passing a bill to appropriate seventy five thousand dollars out of the State Treasury to pay its expenses, principally per diem and mileage. The fact indicates that if the State should be admitted under the Constitution framed by the late striated Convention, the body which would then exercise the functions of a Legislature would draw pay for the whole time it has been permitted to assemble in mock session.

—The DeWitt Elector is pleased to learn Judge W. W. Drummond has been appointed by the Democratic Central Committee a delegate to the National Democratic Convention from the State, which is to be held at New York on the 4th of July.

—The Helena Clarion of the 24th May says a depraved white woman, known as Mrs. Rose, who had behaved well as a servant in the employ of Capt. Richard Blount, entered into matrimonial vows in this county last week with a negro named Alexander. We pity the negro.

TENNESSEE.

—The Brownsville Bee of the 29th, says: An enterprising young villain calling himself A. G. Williams, who said he lived near Double Bridges, Tenn., stole five head of cattle Tuesday morning, 26th, from some freedmen on Mr. Tom. Bond's plantation, five miles from town, drove them into Brownsville, and sold the lot to Messrs. Smith & Lyons, at Haywood Markethouse, for $90. He had just received the money and made his escape when the owners of the cattle reached town in hot pursuit. He is a promising candidate for Executive pardon, being only about seventeen or eighteen years old. He left town on foot, but being "flush" with money, took the evening train for Humboldt, where he was arrested that night and brought back to the Brownsville jail. His name was Dugan on his return. The case went before the grand jury. Messrs. Smith & Lyons recovered some of the money, but costs and expenses run their loss up to about $100.

—Messrs. Sullivan & Collins are exhibiting a magnificent stereopticon in the larger towns along the railroad routes. The Brownsville Bee says: This exhibition was on the board on Wednesday night, and proved a perfect success. The programme was varied and entertaining. Messrs. Sullivan & Collins are young gentlemen of fine talent and perfect conception. Their audience was delighted with the performance. We wish them much success.

—At Nashville, says the Banner, a man named H. W. Buchanan sold a load of wood, the property of W. H. Marshall, yesterday morning, for $2 25, and with the vain hope of replenishing an empty pocket book, invested in a faro bank and lost. His misfortunes were not to end here, for he was soon after arrested for the fraudulent appropriation of money and bound over to await investigation.

—The Nashville Banner of the 29th, says: A very disastrous fire occurred near Pulaski last Sunday morning, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock. Messrs. Maxwell & Alexander's steam saw mill was totally consumed. Their loss is estimated at $6000. No insurance. It is supposed that the fire originated from the carelessness of the fireman, who threw out, on Saturday evening, some hot embers, which came in contact with some combustible material in the building. The mill was one of the most complete in that portion of the country.

—Nashville is looking out for trade. The Banner of the 29th, says: Over twenty-two hundred dollars has been subscribed by the merchants of this city toward the entertainment to be given to the citizens along the Edgefield and Kentucky and Evansville, Henderson and Nashville roads, on the 4th of next month. The City Council has subscribed $1000, thus swelling the amount to $3200, which will, we hope, be increased to $4000 before the affair comes off.

—The Tipton county Record of the 29th, says: The warm, dry weather has done wonders in improving the appearance and condition of the crops. Wheat looks better now than ever. Cotton has come out amazingly, and the farmers have about cleared the corn of grass, and now want a little rain.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—On Tuesday of last week Gus. Richardson, a turbulent negro, was shot and killed near Huntsville, Ala., by Capt. E. H. Rice, at whom he leveled a pistol.

—The Indians who were here a short time since, have been delighting the Cincinnatians with the game of Raquette (racket), which they played here almost in puris naturalibus.

—Senator Grimes is taking an airing at Fortress Monroe, where Stanton would have rent him for safe bestowal, if he dared.

—The Scientific American argues that the mission of the cholera has terminated, and this terrible pestilence will scourge the earth no more. The chief reason is the discovery that carbonic acid will prevent the spread of the epidemic.

—Charles M. Walcot, an esteemed actor, and for many years a popular favorite at Mitchell's Olympic, Wallack's, and other New York theaters, died at the house of his son, in Philadelphia, on the 13th inst.

—The Bastrop (La.) Dispatch says: "The prospect for a large corn crop never looked more promising than at present, and if the season continues as favorable as it now is, there will be more corn raised than there has been for many years. The fruit crop promises an abundant yield, and there is no doubt there will be more peaches, apples, pears, figs, grapes, strawberries, whortleberries, etc., than has ever been seen in this section of country before."

—A physician of Breslau announces to the Academy of Sciences in Paris that he has succeeded is illuminating the cavities of the living human body by means of electricity, so as to render their interior visible to the physician.

—The Hoosac Tunnel, when completed, will be over 27,000 feet (five miles) long. Only 7000 feet of the mountain has been penetrated. The project has cost Massachusetts $4 000,000 already, and will require $8,000,000 to finish it.

MISSISSIPPI.

THE CROPS.—Corn is doing well, and growing rapidly. The stand is good, and farmers anticipate a heavy yield. Cotton has been injured by the recent cool weather to a greater or less extent all over the country. With a good season, though, an ordinary crop will be raised. Wheat suffered considerably from the long continued rainy weather, and in several neighborhoods complaints are made of the rust. Still, we think Marshall county will harvest a better crop than she has harvested for several years. On Wednesday our friend E. L. Farr, who is one of our most enterprising and successful wheat-growers, and who has not bought a pound of flour for fifteen years, brought into our office a sample of his present crop. The heads are large and well filled out. Mr. F. intends to commence cutting his wheat next Monday.—Holly Springs Reporter, 29th.

—The Holly Springs Reporter of the 29th, says: We have read, with feelings of deep sorrow, a notice of the death of Col. R. P. McKelvaine, who died on the 17th of January last, at his residence in Kemper county, Miss. We knew Col. McK. well and intimately; we knew him as fellow-student at the University of Mississippi; we knew him as a soldier during four years of terrible war, and we never knew a truer, braver, better man. He was the very soul of honor, and was brave almost to a fault. For many long years, the memory of his noble qualities will remain fresh in the hearts of all who knew him.

—Incited by jealousy, Ab. Norris, near Mt. Pleasant, Marshall county, shot and it is thought mortally wounded another negro, on Sunday the 24th.

—The registration books will be opened at Holly Springs on the 8th inst., for five days. The registrars, D. C. Calkins, W. L. Jones and W. J. Williams, the Reporter says, "are citizens of the county, are clever and honest, and will discharge their duties with fairness and impartiality." We hope so.

—The Holly Springs Reporter of the 29th, says: The eight citizens, the outrage of whose arrest by the military we mentioned in our last issue, are still confined in the guard house at this place. We learn that they will be sent to Oxford within a few days, to be tried by a military commission. No words we could use can express the indignation which all good citizens feel at the outrage committed by the military in making these arbitrary and unauthorized arrests.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Senate's Judiciary Committee report against Mr. Stanbery's confirmation.

No present change in the subordinate personal of the War Department is contemplated.

The following is Grant's letter of acceptance:

WASHINGTON, May 29 1868.

To Gen. James H. Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention:

Informally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st of May, inst., it seems proper that some statement of views beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination should be expressed. The proceedings of the Convention "was" marked with wisdom, moderation and patriotism, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its recent trials. I indorse their resolutions, and if elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with a view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere. At times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong, through an administration of four years. New political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising, and the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing. A purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I have always respected that will, and always shall. Peace and universal prosperity—its sequence with economy of administration will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace.

With great respect, your ob'd't serv't,
U. S. GRANT.

The Radical canvassers are doubtful and the Democrats are more confident of the result. The vote is close. In betting, the odds are in favor of the Democrats by $300 to $200.

The President has assigned Gen. Stoneman, under his brevet rank, to the command of Virginia.

Schenck, in his financial expose today, estimated the total expenditures for the next fiscal year at $352,000 000, and receipts from all sources at $500,000,000.

The National Typographical Convention to-day elected Robt. McKitchiel, of New York, President; Girard Stith, of New Orleans, First Vice-President; G. W. McDonald, of Chicago, Second; John Cullins, of Cincinnati, Recording Secretary and Treasurer, and Wm. A. Turner, of Philadelphia, Corresponding Secretary.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The joint resolution of the Ohio Legislature protesting against tampering with the impeachment judges, was referred to the Corruption Committee.

The resolution thanking Stanton passed, Henderson, Ross and Fowler, Republicans, voting nay.

The Arkansas admission bill was then resumed, and after a very lengthy debate, passed by a vote of 34 to 8, as it came from the House.

The bill now goes to the President for his approval or rejection.

HOUSE.

Under the regular call the following bills came up, and were referred:

For constructing a Telegraph and Railroad line from Washington to Cleveland, Ohio.

A joint resolution by Eggleston of Ohio, authorizing the Secretary of War to employ Butler and Bingham to prosecute Mr. Davis.

Removing certain Mississippi political disabilities.

Establishing immigration agencies in Great Britain, Germany, Sweden, and Norway.

Granting lands for the purpose of constructing a Telegraph and Railroad line from Kansas to Santa Fe.

For the better preservation of the lives of steam passengers.

Restoring the office of Commissioner of Public Buildings.

A resolution continuing Miss Vennie Ream in her room in the capitol was tabled by 61 to 47.

Mr. Van Trump offered a resolution that the committee on Military Affairs be instructed to negotiate with the Mount Vernon Association for the historical key of the French Bastile, now in their possession, for the use of the capitol turnkey. The House refused to receive it.

The resolution calling for information relative to the arrest of citizens of Columbus, Georgia, lies over.

A bill was introduced forbidding the prosecution of treasury and freedmen's bureau agents for official acts.

Also, a resolution declaring national bonds taxable for national purposes.

The House refused to entertain a resolution declaring it a violation of the Constitution to sign private telegrams and papers.

A recess was ordered hereafter from 4 to 7 p.m., and for the night session to be devoted to the tax bill.

The tax bill was then taken up.

Schenck made a long speech, in which he said: "I take occasion now to say that it is not the expectation that the $2 tax on whisky will be retained by the House; and had this resolution been known four months ago, the Government would have lost $4,000,000. I came very reluctantly to the conclusion that a deduction should be made."

Schenck indicates the probable rate at 75c, at which rate, with the additional taxes on whisky merchants, and a capacity tax on distilleries, he estimates the revenue at $70 000,000. He also intimated that the increased tax on cigars would not be insisted upon.

Kelly favored a tax of not over 40c on whisky.

The House then adjourned.

ST. LOUIS.

THAT NEW WHEAT which passed through this city a day or two ago, we are told by Messrs. White, Kerr & Rootes, the gentlemen to whom it was consigned, was sold in St. Louis at seven dollars per bushel. It was the first wheat in the market.

FISTICUFFS.—We learn that a pleasant little set-to of this old English game, came off yesterday afternoon between little General Smith and a gentleman. Smith gave the gentleman the lie, and the gentleman slapped Smith's mouth, when they harnessed, but were very easily separated, especially Smith.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF ANGERONA LODGE.—The stated annual election of officers of Angerona Lodge, resulted in the choice of the following—to serve for the ensuing year: John Zent, W. M.; Gus Reeder, S. W.; F. M. Cash, J. W.; N. J. Wiggins, Treasurer; John Beamish, Secretary; John Salter, Tyler; A. E. Frankland, Sen. Deacon; Eugene E. Jones, Jun. Deacon; Charles H. Myers and W. H. White, Stewards.

RALEIGH SPRINGS: BRAN DANCE AND BALL.—On next Thursday our friend, J. M. Coleman, Esq., proprietor of the Raleigh Springs hotel, gives a bran dance, to be succeeded by a ball in the evening, at the hotel. A special train will be run over the Memphis and Louisville railroad to the Junction, to connect with busses and carriages for the Springs. All who wish to enjoy a really delightful time will avail themselves of this opportunity of having a real old fashioned frolic.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING.—The Fire store on the corner of Vance and grocery [illegible] occupied by S. Lehmann & Hernando [illegible] fire about 3 o'clock this morning, was caught and was entirely destroyed, with almost [illegible] was owned by Mr. Lehman, whose loss will amount to probably $2500, on which he has $1500 insurance in the Enterprise Insurance Company of Cincinnati. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

HEAVY TRANSACTIONS IN BANKRUPT SALES.—We learn that since the opening of the P. L. Huette bankrupt sale of drugs to the trade, the daily cash receipts have been over twenty-five hundred dollars. At this rate of sales it is but reasonable to expect that the assets will pay a handsome dividend instead of only a small pro rata to creditors, as was first supposed by some. If such prove the case, it is something more than usual from bankrupt returns.—Avalanche, Sunday.

We are informed authoritatively that the above, from our neighbor of Sunday, is altogether wrong—the gross receipts of the sales of the said bankrupt amounting to only $2500 in the aggregate, up to date.

INSURANCE.—It is often difficult for those desiring to insure to select a company, out of the great number soliciting patronage, whose solvency may be depended upon, and who are not afraid to invite patronage by a liberal expenditure in advertising, for fear that the attention attracted by advertising, might subject them to a scrutiny which might prove injurious. The United States Insurance Company, represented by G. W. L. Crook, Esq., declared a dividend in 1867 of twenty-five per cent. to stockholders, and is classed by the Insurance Commissioner of New York among forty-five foreign companies as eighteen. It is a good company, and ably represented.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS.—Theater goers are promised a rare treat in a few days at the New Memphis Theater, in the performance of Guy Mannering, by amateurs, who have tendered a benefit to our worthy and enterprising manager and lessee, Mr. Thom[illegible]

[illegible] and which would be better than [illegible]alth to our children. Let us unite [illegible]th one heart and one will in sustaining whosoever shall be our standard [illegible]earer in the contest. Our opponents [illegible]e demoralized, and the prospect is such [illegible] should animate every true patriotic [illegible]east.

Capt. Dubose, from the Committee on [illegible]legation, submitted the following, [illegible]hich were confirmed by the Convention, with the addition of the Chairman [illegible]d Secretary of the meeting, and the [illegible]ommittee on the Delegation: M. W. [illegible]usky, W. G. Swan, N. B. Forest, H. L. Priddy, W. Y. C Humes, J. P. Strange, Antonio Cordonna, W. F. Tyler, Col. John W. Dawson, Andrew J. Edmondson, Col. M. McGeveney, jr., Thos. D. Allen, Chamberlain Jones, sr., W. H. Walker, John T. Trezevent, L. C. Haynes, Theodore McGee, J. H. Goodlett, J. D. Ruffin, Gen. Albert Pike, J. M. Coleman, Capt. J. F. Tobin, John Rosser, Col. C. D. McLean, M. J. Waldran, W. McClure, A. S. Levi, F. L. Warner, Newt. Hart, F. A. Tyler, Maj. Phil. Allen, Col. Luke W. Finley, Reuben Burrow, Minor Merriwether, W. W. Coleman, P. T. Scruggs, T. C. Blakeley, F. Stifle, J. Harvy Mathis, Col. Thomas Avery, Col. H. Clay Condee, and John Bullock.

Col. Condee, being called upon, responded in a truly patriotic speech, in which he expressed his gratification at the conduct and completion of this meeting. There were three hundred soldiers in this city who fully sympathised with them, and who were averse to the effort to disfranchise the best men in the State that negro supremacy might prevail. When these soldiers had ceased to fight upon the battlefield, they laid down all their animosities and were friends. He indorsed the letter of Gen. Forrest recently published.

Col. A. H. Douglas responded to a call amid enthusiastic applause and paid an eloquent compliment to the previous speaker.

Col. Gallaway offered the following:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Shelby county congratulate the Democracy of the Union on the triumphant acquittal of Andrew Johnson from the recent Impeachment charges made by the despots in Congress who are trampling upon the Constitution and the liberties of the people, and that the thanks of every lover of freedom are due the President for the patriotic manner in which he has warred with tyranny, and labored to preserve the Constitution.

Gen. Glenn addressed the meeting on the resolution, in which he gave the Radicals some home thrusts, which created considerable amusement.

Gen. Forrest was called for and most enthusiastically received. He plainly and unequivocally stood where he had always stood, willing to receive in full companionship those against whom he had fought and who were ready to take the Constitution for their guide. They thought they were right when on the battle field, and he thought he was right. When peace was declared he was for carrying out the great object of our government, under the Constitution, the protection of the people. His speech throughout was full of patriotic feeling, and was repeatedly applauded. He was for thorough organization, Federal and Confederate soldiers uniting and using every effort for the good of the country.

Mr. Edgington was not much used to political speaking, but he was not willing, as a Northern man, to be represented by such as claimed to be loyal, and made it a cloak for incompetency and stealing. He paid a handsome compliment to Gen. Forrest, and said he did not belong to the South alone. The North, too, claimed his fame as a part of her wealth. There were thousands and tens of thousands of Northern men who were ready to join hands with him to restore the Government to its Constitutional functions.

Mr. Leftwich asked for the reading of the resolution, and proposed an amendment, expressing a preference for Andrew Johnson as the candidate for the Presidency.

Mr. Merriwether desired that the amendment be withdrawn.

Gen. Forrest desired to be left untrammeled, and to be able to sustain the candidate who may be selected by the National Convention, without instructions to prefer a different candidate. Should he be the nominee, none would support him more cheerfully and earnestly. It was the general wish of the people of Tennessee to unite upon the strongest man, and to harmonize to that end. He would prefer if the amendment should be withdrawn.

The resolution as originally offered was adopted.

Mr. Stewart moved the appointment of an Executive Committee, which was lost, and the meeting adjourned.

TERRIBLE AFFRAY.

One Man Killed and Two Others Severely Wounded.

Coroner's Inquest—Verdict of the Jury.

The barbershop of Robert Fleis, No. 315½ Second street, near the corner of Monroe, was yesterday afternoon the scene of a terrible tragedy, the particulars of which, gleaned from eye-witnesses, we give below:

About five o'clock a man named John Wright entered the shop and asked to have his hair cut. While Fleis was engaged in doing the job, another man, apparently in haste, entered and asked the barber to shave him, offering him a peck of apples if he would do so immediately. Upon hearing this, Mr. Wright turned and said to the new comer, whose name we have since learned to be E. A. Edmundson, "if you will wait a few minutes I will pay for your shave."

Edmundson answered that that "was not his way of doing business," or in some such manner, and added, "we are not good friends anyhow." To this Wright only said, "I did not know that," but his reply seemed to anger Edmundson, who left the shop saying, "I will fix you for that." He returned a moment after, with an open knife in his hand, and walked toward Wright, who drew a revolver and fired at him.

The bullet hit Edmundson in the left arm, and passed through, glancing upward, and struck a negro man who happened at that moment to step in the doorway. The poor fellow was passing, and, hearing the loud words, stopped a moment to look in, but that moment was fatal to him! The ball struck him in the center of his forehead, and he fell to the sidewalk with the brains oozing through the wound, and died in a very few moments.

Meanwhile Edmundson, though wounded, continued to advance on Wright, and clasping him in his arms, managed to inflict a terrible wound on him beneath the left shoulder-blade, before the Police, who had already arrived, could separate them. They were, however, parted, and immediately taken in charge by the police, who conveyed them to Causey street station. On the way down to the station the wounds of Mr. Wright were dressed.

Acting Coroner R. B. Miller, J. P., summoned a jury to sit on the colored man, who came to such an untimely end, and, after listening to the evidence in the matter, came to the following verdict:

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

State of Tennessee, Shelby county.

An inquisition holden in Shelby county, Tennessee, this 1st day of June, 1868, R. B. Miller, J. P., acting Coroner, presiding. The jurors sworn and charged, present upon their oath that the man here lying dead is about 26 years old, about 5 feet 7 inches high, brown colored mulatto, by the name of Allen; that he came to his death from the following cause: from a pistol shot in the hands of a person unknown to the jurors; that he had upon his person $5 30, one pocket-knife, one small piece of tobacco, and one white pocket-handkerchief.

In witness whereof we do hereunto set our hands and affix our seals, this the day above written.

It would appear, from what we could glean at the station, that Edmundson and Wright were near neighbors, both hailing from DeSoto county, Miss., near State Line, on the Hollyford road, and that they had long been at feud.

The name of the unfortunate victim of their quarrel was Allen Davis, and he was employed at Shade's restaurant. He is said to have been a good, quiet boy, and his death is much regretted by his companions.

Edmundson and Wright are now in Causey street prison, and will have an examination this morning.

ST. MARY'S PICNIC.

Large Assemblage at Ford Place

The children of St. Mary's Church Sunday School yesterday had a picnic at the Ford Place, under the auspices of Father Schneider, for the benefit of St Mary's building fund. The picnic had been extensively advertised, and there was considerable interest excited about it in Catholic circles.

About eight o'clock the children of the Sunday School began to assemble at the church, and at nine were formed in procession; the little girls in front and boys in rear. Preceded by Professor Smith's band, the procession marched down Second to Union, down Union to Main, through Main to the Louisville depot, where omnibusses were provided to take the picnicers out to the grounds. On the the grounds the band proceeded immediately to the stand, and dancing commenced, and was kept up nearly all day. About three o'clock there were some recitations given by the little boys and girls, which were creditable to the young people.

There was no regular dinner set, and but few were prepared with the necessary edibles, so that the stands that were allowed to sell the substantial and fluid necessaries of life did a most flourishing business. The number of visitors at four o'clock was estimated at from 1500 to 2000. We were compelled to leave the grounds about this time, but doubt not that the number was much larger later in the evening. The affair was evidently a success pecuniarily—a fact which will make up for a great many shortcomings and deficiencies, especially when the object was so praiseworthy as that for which the picnic was given.

LAW COURT—James O. Pierce, Judge. The minutes will be signed to day at 10 o'clock a.m., and an adjournment had to next term, the second Monday in June, 1868.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—There was no court on yesterday. To-day motions for new trials will be heard at 12 o'clock m. The criminal side of the court (June term) may open to day at 9 o'clock a.m.

CRIMINAL COURT. — Wm. Hunter, Judge.—On yesterday, in the case of the State vs. Winters, Costillo and McPartland, indictment for murder, Mr. Bullock, counsel of Winters and Costillo, read to the Court numerous affidavits proving that owing to excitement and prejudice existing in the county against the defendants, they could not have a fair and impartial trial. Judge Hunter decided that the defendants were entitled to a change of venue, and to-day the defendants will elect in what county they wish to be tried. In the case of the State vs. John Cosgrove, indictment for the murder of Thos. Malone, D. McFalls was again brought out to testify as to who did the shooting, he having heretofore refused to answer in open Court and before the Grand Jury. His testimony throws much light upon the late tragedy enacted in the courtroom. He testified as follows:

I have no occupation at present; was guard at the jail under Sheriff Winters one year; have known John Winters about one year; Patrick Dolan was also a guard at the jail at the same time; was in the Federal army from 1861 to 1866; have been in jail ten days; have had a conversation since with Mr. Curry, Sheriff; Mr. Bullock called to see me on Saturday; did not speak to him on the subject; Pat Dolan fired the shot; saw him do it; am not implicated in the shooting; I thought the other day I was implicated, as I was an officer at the time; the shooting took place about dark; think it was about five o'clock; I was sitting behind the desk at the time; I came to the court room with the prisoners; Malone was standing near the end of the table when he was shot; saw Dolan several times since; was near Malone when he did the shooting; don't know what he shot him with; don't know who else was near him (witness here described the position of the parties); had my breast near Dolan's shoulder; did not see him draw the pistol; it was too critical a time to catch the pistol; Malone staggered towards the wall; I concealed all knowledge of it at the time; I told but one person his name was Dan; he is some relation of Mr. Bullock; told him on Adams street last Thursday; told Cosgrove not to have me subpœned in the case, as I did not want to tell it, and there were plenty of men to clear him; Cosgrove was standing behind the table; some time afterward I talked to Dolan about it; said to him I would keep it secret; told Cosgrove I would go to jail before I told it, and would keep it secret; had a conversation with Cosgrove—(objected to by Mr. Sale, objection sustained by the Court); spoke to Dolan about it, because Cosgrove told me he would have me as a witness; told me he would not blow on him; I made him a present with Cosgrove and Dolan as to my testimony; Cosgrove had nothing in his hands at the time of the shooting; I was informed before I left the jail with the prisoners that they would be killed; Malone came up to the end of the table; he had his hands in his pockets all the time; had them there when he was shot; I have received nothing for coming here to testify; Dolan is a small man; don't know what kind of a pistol he had; from the report I think it was a derringer with a small bore; Jack Winters gave me two pistols afterward; he said they were given to him by a friend.

Examined by Mr. Bullock—Enlisted in Iowa; came from Corinth to Memphis; Mr. Bullock did not advise me what to do; told me to take my own course; did not wish to tell on a man with whom I had been friendly; I told Cosgrove I would not tell on Dolan; the answer was in reply to what Cosgrove said to me.

By the Court—D. McFall will be discharged from custody, he having answered. The fine will remain suspended until next term of Court. No execution on mittimus will issue.

John Dougherty sworn—Was present when Malone was shot in the courtroom; went over to Malone when the row commenced, and told him to keep quiet and there would be no trouble; Malone walked to the end of the table and was shot; he exclaimed "I am shot"; have lived in Memphis four years; saw Cosgrove getting over the table; some one turned him around; Cosgrove did not do the shooting; saw the glitter of the pistol; it was silver mounted; don't know who had it; Cosgrove and I talked about it; told him I knew he did not do the shooting; am a brother-in-law to Thos. Winters; never spoke to Mrs. Cosgrove about it; I keep a grocery store in Memphis.

J. Schooles sworn—Was in the court room the night of the shooting; heard the quarrel between Col. Gannt and Wm Bullock; Malone arose and said something; some other person said "he would not take that;" I told Malone "for God's sake not to carry this thing any further;" heard the shot; did not see Cosgrove fire the shot; if he had done so, would have seen him; was looking at him all the time; saw Malone when the crowd got around him.

Here the case closed, and the defendant admitted to bail in the sum of $4000.

Patrick Dolan was also brought out and admitted to bail in the sum of $2000.

Judge Hunter informed the members of the bar present that to-day motions for new trials would be heard, and the prisoners found guilty during the present term would be brought out of Jail and sentenced, and an adjournment had to court in course, Hopeshibe.

U. S. COURT—A. S. Mitchell, Clerk.—The following petitions in bankruptcy were filed late on Saturday evening and on June 1, 1868: Allen F. Morgan, Shelby county; M. D. Rhodes, Shelby county; William A. Alexander, Madison county; L. Hawkins, Shelby county; Robert R. Caldwell, Gibson county; B. L. Partee, Gibson county; Robert Seat, Gibson county; F. L. Parker, Gibson county; W. H. Stillwell, Gibson county; Addison Bighee, Gibson county; Julius Rosenthal, Madison county; Jas. S. W. Caldwell, Madison county.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.—T. J. Latham, Register.—An assignee was appointed in the cases of T. J. Pierson & Co., Solomon Lewishorn and Abraham Brant.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—George W. Reeves, Judge.—On yesterday, in the matter of A. B. Newkirk, on application to be inducted into the office of Clerk of Shelby county Circuit Court, the plea in abatement of M. D. L. Stewart was sustained.

The Jury, in the case of the State vs. Maria Ragland, mulatto, indictment for beastiality, returned a verdict of "not guilty." Maria, after receiving a wholesome lecture from the Court, was discharged. The State docket will continue to be called to-day.

A CARD.—If the wonderful results from the use of Dr. J. D. Stillman's "Great Restorative" to health were before the public, astonishment would be uncontrolled, and incredulity seize the imagination. It is perhaps the only medicine known, that seems applicable to all kinds and conditions of disease, as immediately and thoroughly removes from the blood all impurities, and imparts elements of vigor, new life and strength to the system. It is peculiarly suited to General Debility from Chills and Fever, also Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Consumption. Never in the world's history has a medicine so replete with health-inspiring qualities been discovered; and as the intelligent public become familiar with its great properties, they have not words to express their satisfaction. The "Great General Restorative" is no oriental, antediluvian, Indian, Shaker, Rotterdam, or any other foreign mixture, but a Memphis discovery. RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather warm and sultry. The river at this point is declining rapidly, and has fallen nearly 3 feet in all. At Cairo the Ohio is falling fast. The latest news from the Ohio will be found in our telegraphic columns. The Tennessee and Cumberland is falling fast. The Mississippi at St. Louis and above continues to decline steadily. A swell is reported coming out of the Missouri, but it is not of such a character as to cause any uneasiness. The Arkansas was rising at Fort Smith when the Celeste left that point. Red water from the Canadian has reached Little Rock before this time. The Gazette of the 30th ult. says: "The river continues to recede opposite the city, with 8 feet water to Napoleon. We learn from the officers of the Celeste that Lo, the poor Indian! came into Fort Smith from the west on a fiery, untamed steed, and reported the Arkansas rising rapidly from heavy rains on the plains. This is the second visitation of the untutored savage, and as his first report proved a fable, we may consider this re-lie-able." White river is falling fast, with half twain to Jacksonport, and crops looking splendidly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The great Frank Pargoud will be in port this morning, and leaves at 12 m. for Cairo and St. Louis. She is really a magnificent packet. John W. Tobin is master, George Williams and Oscar Benediet clerks.

Capt. E. B. Rylington, whose name is familiar to every traveler in the country, is on a short business visit to this city. He is justly entitled to the name of "King of the Ticket Agents," having 174 branch offices scattered throughout the different States. He will remain with us a short time, and reopen the Overton ticket office, which has been closed for some days.

Mr. George Draine, a well known railroad man of Cincinnati, and Mr. John Cleveland, also of that city, are in town on their way to the Hot Springs, for which point they leave this evening on the Commercial.

The Norman, Capt. Dickinson, will pass up to-day for Cairo and Louisville, at 8 p.m. Geo. Patterson is clerk.

The elegant low pressure passenger packet Richmond, Capt. J. Sint. Neal, will pass down to-day for the Crescent City. Woolfolk is her chief clerk and Bob Lodge is his assistant.

The fine, enlarged and elongated steamer W. R. Arthur, Capt. Duble, will be in port to-day, and leaves at noon for New Orleans and way points. She is the chief of carriers, and has unsurpassed passenger accommodations.

The R. E. Lee will pass up this evening at 8 o'clock for Cairo and Louisville. Capt. John Cannon is master of the boat, and Mr. Roberts has charge of the office.

The United States mail packet Commercial, Capt. Ashford, will back out at 5 p.m. to-day for White river, connecting at Devall's Bluff with the trains for Little Rock. With superior accommodations and such gentlemen in the office as Charley and John Smither, 'tis no wonder that the "Old Reliable" is a favorite.

The bright Silver Moon will take travelers on their way to Cincinnati tomorrow. Capt. Ben Merrielees is the man in the moon, and will entertain his passengers as royally as the chap in the pale ore could do.

The Celeste came in late on Sunday night and left on time last evening for all points on the Arkansas to Fort Smith. The energy displayed by Capt. Adams in getting a boat ready in time to take the Centralia's day, is only one more proof of his determination to make his line a reliable one, and that he is the "right man in the right place."

The Marble City goes out on Thursday for Cairo and St. Louis. Capt. Conway is master and Mr. Corbyn clerk.

Capt. Tom Newell arrived yesterday from a visit to White river, where he has been inspecting the steamer J. D. Perry, preparatory to placing her in the White river and New Orleans trade. Capt. Tom found her in excellent order, except that some of the "ginger bread" had been carried away from her upper works. He will load her with lumber and proceed to St. Louis, where the Perry will be rejuvenated.

Capt. Frank Mahan, of Toof, Phillips & Co., having visited Washington during his absence, and looked upon such creatures as Stevens, Logan and others, became disgusted. Meeting the Celeste accidentally, he involuntarily placed his hand upon his watch and hastened home, where he arrived on Sunday, to the great joy of his many friends.

Major Mart Walt, the well known steamboat owner and merchant, returned yesterday from a brief visit to the Hot Springs, the curative properties of which have entirely relieved him from the rheumatism. The Major looks very much improved by his trip, and will devote his attention to his business with the same energy which has characterized him heretofore.

The Centralia, as we stated in our last, is a total loss. She is lying on a bar in the bend. Her stern is hanging over thirty-five feet water, and is kept up by the lumber in her hold, which sinks as it becomes water-logged. The Arkansas is falling rapidly, but the wreck is sinking faster than the water falls. She was insured for only $8000—not half her value. A policy of $4000 was run out only a few days before she sank and was not renewed.

The Mollie Hambleton, Captain Tom Bowman, is the regular St. Francis river packet to-day. She is the main stay of the people along that river; without her their sun would set forever. Paine, Clark and Snell are her polite financial gentlemen.

THE NATIONAL
COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

$10,000,000,

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out, or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

Stock may now be subscribed in this company at the office of

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Schofield accepts the office of Secretary of War, and will be sworn in to-morrow. The President's friends claim that he is in accord with the Executive. His military commission is not vacated by the acceptance of the War office.

Adjt.-Gen. Thomas resumes his old position.

Grant criticises severely the course of Chase, who comments freely on the Radicals and their foolish or wicked acts, personally and politically.

It is rumored that Grant's letter of acceptance will be of a conservative character.

A letter was received at the Treasury Department, last Saturday, containing two one thousand dollar 7-30 notes. It was postmarked "New York, May 29," but contained no evidence whatever that could lead to the discovery of the sender. The numbers of the inclosed notes were carefully cut out, and the address, viz: "Treasury Department, Washington," had been taken from a newspaper and pasted on the envelope. The interior contained the words cut from a former newspaper paragraph, in a previously announced conscience case, "this money rightfully belongs to the United States." The notes will be placed to the credit of the Treasury Department.

The Herald's Washington dispatch contains the following: Eight hundred thousand acres of land in Southern Kansas were deeded, many years ago, to the Cherokee Indians by the Government for the Cherokees. The land being apparently unoccupied, was taken possession of by settlers and pre-empted, one thousand farmers being now settled on the land under the homestead law. The Indians, in 1866, demanded the value of their land, and by some maneuvering, it is alleged, of Mr. Harlan, then Secretary of the Interior, it was bought by speculators; and thus the settlers, who could have paid more than the speculators, are in a fair way to be ousted or swindled. This peculiar arrangement was originally fixed up in a secret session of the Senate, the House having no knowledge of it whatever.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Two heavy shocks of an earthquake were felt at Sacramento at nine o'clock on Saturday night. They were not felt at all at San Francisco or along the coast, but were very severe in Nevada, which seems to have been the principal seat of disturbance. Heavy shocks were felt at Fort Churchill and Virginia City, but no damage was done at Virginia City. Large buildings rocked, and everybody rushed out of doors. The pumps in the Savage mine were stopped, and the miners thought a cave had occurred.

Maj. Keasing, who died here yesterday, was prominently connected with Fremont's movements in the West.

The Germans of San Francisco have received an acknowledgment of six thousand dollars in gold, forwarded to Berlin for the relief of sufferers.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The bark Marco Polo, from Bremen, with 400 passengers, arrived yesterday. She had twenty-four cases of children by scarlatina on the passage.

LONDON, June 1.—The steamer Narva, with the new cable to connect Cuba and Florida, under Sir Charles Bright, sailed this evening.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 1, 1868.

The past week was memorable in Memphis financial and commercial circles, and now that the 1st of June has come, we hope that there will be a better feeling prevailing. Our merchants during the week just gone, have been flooded with bankrupt notices. Debts newly made, as well as those running back into the years before the war, have been wiped out, much to the relief of debtors. An old merchant, who for the past twenty years has dealt heavily with North Mississippi, and who made money out of the trade, now says that he is even—that what he made has been paid back in the shape of interest and bankrupt notices. His is not the only case of the kind, but unfortunately many have paid back more than the profits on their business, and stand to-day in the decline of life, much worse off pecuniarily than when they first put on their armor to enter into the field of mercantile pursuits.

Exchange is quiet and rates steady. New York sight is offered occasionally and taken at par, selling at ⅛c premium. Checking on Nashville, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati at ⅛c premium Buying, New Orleans, at ⅛c discount, selling at par. Gold has not varied much during the week, though the premium has rather tended downward. It opened to-day in New York at 139¾, and closed at same. We quote 138 to 139¾ buying, selling at 139¾ to 140¾.

City Scrip was quiet to-day. There were no sellers at less than 73 to 75¾, while brokers were offering 70 to 71c. We quote selling to tax payers at 75 to 80c, as to amount.

County Warrants are dull—buying at 60 to 62c, selling at 65 to 68c.

Police Scrip firm at 84 to 85c buying, selling at 88 to 90c.

The prospect of a good cotton crop this year is very good indeed. The many rains last month which retarded the young plant to some extent, have done no serious damage, and the late warm dry spell has given it an impetus forward—making it spring out of the ground as if by magic. Of the result of the season's work, we can yet form no accurate estimate; but those who are well informed upon the subject and whose estimates of last year's crop were very nearly verified, set the aggregate of the coming one at 2,000,000 bales, which is, we think, a very fair estimate. The market for the week has been quiet, with no desirable lists offered, and only one or two buyers to be found. The week opened with the Liverpool market heavy; Uplands, 11½d; Orleans, 11¾d. While in New York Middlings were dull and entirely nominal at 30½c. The former market declined on that day ¼d, and on the following one ¼d—Middlings in New York going down to 29½c. There was a rally on Thursday to 11¼d in Liverpool for Uplands, and Middlings on that day jumped up to 30¼c in New York. All the markets were firm on Friday, and an advance of ⅛c was asked in New York, with no change in the Liverpool market. The same was the case on Saturday. There was no market in Liverpool to day—it being Whit-Monday or Pentecost Monday. Tomorrow will also be observed as a holiday. The New York market opened quiet and steady. Low Middlings, 29½ to 30c; Middlings, 31c; Orleans, 32c; Good Middlings, 32½c. At noon and until the close there was no change. Sales, 500 bales. Our market was quiet, with a few sales in lots running from 2 to 10 bales, upon a basis of 28 to 29c for Middlings.

Wholesale Market.

The general markets have not improved in activity since our last, and prices though very little if any lower, are sensibly weaker. Mess Pork is only in moderate demand, with fair stock. The demand for meats of all kinds, however, is lighter than ever known before at this season of the year. Corn, hay and oats are in moderate demand for local purposes with some call for interior points. Large shipments of corn were sent to places along the Arkansas to Little Rock last year, but this season the wants of that region are supplied from points above, where the corn crop was heavy. This season the news from that river is very favorable. Corn is in tassel, with prospects of an abundant yield to supply all the wants of that section, if not affording a surplus for shipment. From North Mississippi, Alabama, our own State, Kentucky, and, in fact, from every direction, the news is favorable of the coming crop, and without some intervention of Providence our people who have already been so severely dealt with by the hand of the Almighty, may look forward to a year of comparative plenty. Taking the average of the entire country, we are warranted by reliable accounts from private sources, and after a careful collation of the reports of the local papers, in concluding that the prospect of a handsome return to the farmer and planter never looked better at this season of the year.

The Dry Goods market for the week has been quiet, with only a light jobbing trade doing at last week's prices. The Commercial Bulletin of the 27th ult. says of the New York market:

Brown Sheetings and Shirtings are inactive, notwithstanding the concession made in rates. The light weights are relatively the most in demand, but are somewhat scarce in the market. Fine grades are slower of sale than standards, for which latter there is but a languid demand; Bleached do. ⅞ and ¾ are not very plentiful, which fact may perhaps be accounted for by manufacturers having turned their attention more to Print Cloths, which have commanded a readier sale. 4-4 light grades show a steady inquiry; medium makes are dull, and for the better brands the demand is quite limited. Prints are quiet under a small steady inquiry for stock requirements.

In Boots and Shoes there is no change to report. Outside a small inquiry to fill up "sizes" there is no demand. Prices show no signs of weakness, owing to the state of the Eastern market, and stocks are very good for the season.
